

(Feb. 8th)

- (3) Cleared W. face of XXIV and NW corner. S side much broken, and SW corner not located. The lowest course of the facing is preserved along most of the west side and at NW corner. Between W face of SSIV and SE corner of XI a part of the enclosing wall or platform retaining wall of XI remains [DRAWING].
- (4) Located inclined approach to chamber of XXV, and partly cleared it. No traces of the pyramid remain on the surface. The approach, like the others, goes down N. The northern part filled with reddish laminated drift, hard packed, the southern with very hard grey debris. L at end of work 4.35 but it extends 1-2 meters further south.
- (5) Started on Pyr. XVIII, working into the piled up debris from the west. Rough sandstone & sand debris, as yet no traces of a face or corner. Started the inclined stair shaft, which is about on the NS axis of the mass, to the south, going down N. Only a small portion at S end cleared (hard grey debris).
