[DRAWING]

The clearing of the face of XI proceeds.

[DRAWING]

The casing is preserved to a height of ca. 6 m. The chapel is a height of 3 courses in places. The N. wall of the chamber (i.e. the face of the pyramid) was hollowed to take a stela now missing. The E and W walls were carved in relief (as Pyr. I-VI). The ending wall formed a sort of platform level with the floor of the chapel. [DRAWING] This is clearly shown by the
