

(Mar. 1)

(33)

- (3) After measuring trench A this morning with theodolite and steel tape, and taking the levels, started removing the layer of debris under the "upper floor."

Very anxious about safety of the French lines owing to great German offensive. Germans announce new phase of submarine campaign. Orders to sink every armed merchantman at sight (i.e. all merchantmen). I suppose we shall now have another shameful exhibition of the crawfish and the crab wake [??] by Mr. Wilson.
