

(April 14)

(71)

grey sandstone pavement and grey (or yellow) sandstone cols. This temple was curiously irregular at the back—possibly squeezed in between other buildings.

[DRAWING]

--800 sub. rough sketch of building as indicated by remains of mud brick walls.

[2] The well-built red sandstone temple which occupies the site of sub 802 to sub 806. The floors are poor red sandstone.

[3] The red sandstone reconstruction which forms (sub 807) the poor [??] floors