

(April 6)
(64)

The other one: (lower [XXX??])

[DRAWING: hieroglyphs]

Thus we have found the tomb of Espalut—the middle one of the row [DRAWING]. In spite of my later misgivings, there can be no doubt that the Nuri pyramids represent the tombs of the great Aithiopic dynasty.

Last night, Mirsal (the negro) whom we took over from Prof. Griffith, crazed by marital troubles and an unsuccessful contest with the family of his second wife, penetrated the house of his mother-in-law armed with a sword. He cut and stabbed his mother-in-law, his wife (a girl of 13) and another woman. After the deed, he returned to our house. I awoke hearing strange voices at the back wall of