- (1) Clearing N. side of Pylon of 800.

All the period contemporaneous with 800 is concealed by the late rooms and walls above. But on the S.

side of the pylon, we uncovered a flight of steps which led up from 804 of the earlier temple (mud-brick temple?) and was closed by the construction of the red stone temple old mud-brick wall refaced with red sandstone.

The stones used in the steps are white sandstone.

I have also been going over the whole temple and it now seems to me that we have an early mud-brick temple with
