frags. of ushebtis as before, also frags. of alab. vessels, bronze etc. With some pains, I was able to make out the name of Espalut on the bottom of the badly preserved inscription in the chapel. The pyr. was stepped with inclined faces. [DRAWING] The edge of each course is marked by a line at the top of the course below (as at Barkal). In fact, the general plan and type of construction are strikingly like Barkal XI. It is highly improbable that any pyramid in the Sudan will ever be found unplundered.
