

(April 14)
71

floors in the upper red temple 166 rooms 804, 803 and 802 may also ²⁶⁵ belong to this reconstruction.

■ New walls built with out relation to the temple after this was decayed.

According to this ^{the wall from} room 904 ^{to out 806} was walled up when the red 800 was constructed, but may have been still accessible from 905. All efforts to discover foundations deposit which might date either the 800 or 800 out have failed. A comparison of the masonry with 900 suggests that red 800 was built by Atlanersa and restored by Senka Amun Seken. It is ^{not} possible that the statues in 904 and 500A were carried out by Atlanersa ^{or Senka Amun Seken} for the obelisk of Atlanersa in ^{red 801} seems to have been thrown out at the same time and the group contains two statues of Senka Amun Seken who was later than Atlanersa. When the statues were cleared out of the great temple (800) room 904 must have been clear as also ^{red} 801.