[DRAWING]

Room 106 contains a winding stair of which three turns (a, b, c) are clear. The present turn c is destroyed showing an older stair underneath. The older stair begun with b not with a and at that time the corridor (106) ran through from 102 to 108. Room 107 appears to be a later corridor opened after 106 was closed by the later stair. On the floor of 107 & 108 pots.
